

ENVIRONMENTAL CHARTER

We are actively involved in sustainable development and have built an eco-friendly approach into our corporate strategy. Our values lean towards ethics and environmental sustainability.

To keep our environmental impact to the minimum, we have adopted the following objectives:

Responsible purchasing:

Our purchasing policy is constantly evolving. When sourcing our products, we make a point of preferring local suppliers that care about the environment and are committed to sustainable development. We also give priority to eco-certified and organic products. In order to limit waste, we collaborate with Too Good To Go, allowing baskets to be delivered with our unsold items of the day.

Waste management:

While we believe that the best waste is the waste that is not produced in the first place, we selectively sort and recycle glass, paper, cardboard, plastic, ink cartridges, light bulbs and batteries. We have also set up a system for composting and reusing our organic waste, and a process for recovering used oils.

We closely monitor our printouts and are increasingly digitalizing our communication and marketing materials. We keep individually-packaged items to a minimum.

Managed water and energy usage:

To save water and electricity, we've installed various systems at our establishment, such as LED lighting, motion sensors and flow controllers, etc. Regular meter readings help us track our consumption. We also encourage our clients to contribute to this initiative by not having towels and bed linen washed as frequently.

Biodiversity:

We've installed nest boxes on our terrace to help protect certain bird species in an urban environment. We also take part in solidarity-driven initiatives to help protect the planet.

Awareness raising:

To raise our clients' awareness and involve them in our drive for environmental sustainability, we've developed a variety of promotional material, including a list of eco-friendly actions, signage, information on soft and public transport options, and documentation about the fauna and flora.

We also make a special effort to raise our employees' awareness and involvement.

And finally, we make a point of analysing, tracking and sharing the progress made on our eco-friendly initiative.
